

I am Nicolas Prost, a self-taught french photographer, born in 1989. I started to work as an engineer but I switched for something more creative, black and white photography. Mostly of my work is about nude and fashion.

I draw my inspiration from Peter Lindbergh, Mert Alas & Marcus Piggott, Formento+Formento, Daniella Midenge... I think black and white nude photography is the perfect balance.

I'm worldwide available for fashion and artistic projects.
